

THE TIMES

Once again Hartwell Primary School has made it to the Times Top 500 Schools list!

Hartwell are placed at 359 in the country and 7th in the county!

This is based on the 2020 data and as our data has got even better since then it will be exciting to see our position next year.

What a truly joyous half term!

I have so many messages of thanks following such a great term.

Thank you to the amazing Friends team for working so hard and putting on such a great Christmas Fair. We are also very grateful to Lee John from AJ Foodi who served delicious food on the playground and donated his takings to the evening's profit. Our thanks to Dave from Frost's Garden Centre who was the fabulous Father Christmas and entertained us all with his warm, jovial personality and helped make the evening so special.

The Nativity was delightful and made me feel so proud of the children and staff who had worked so hard to make it a wonderful performance.

I also want to offer my thanks to Reverend Mark, who has been delivering monthly collective worship at school, the Ethos Committee and the team at Archways particularly Fi Messenger who does so much for the school.

Thank you to our lovely volunteers Melonie Hurst, Richard Haggett and Janice Kavanagh who come in and support.

Another thank you to the ladies from Happy Hols who work closely with the school and give the children such a lovely time at their wrap around care provision.

Even more thanks to the team from ABM Catering for their hard work and delicious food.

Grateful thanks to the school governors and Peter Cantley the director of Education from the Diocese for all their support.

My final thank you is to all you parents and carers who work in close partnership with us. I really value the benefits that come from our teamwork.

We wish you all a very Merry Christmas and a happy 2023.

The children are due back into school on Wednesday 4th January.

Please remember if your child has PE that day they should attend school in their PE uniform. Class teachers will put a reminder of your child's PE days on Class Dojo.
