Class 3: Amilia—for a super attitude towards school and her learning

Class 4: Benjamin—for aiming high and challenging himself in maths

Class 5: Luke—a huge improvement in his confidence when contributing in lessons

Class 6: Amy—for always giving 100% and producing high quality work as a result

Can You Help?

We would love to open our doors to any volunteers who would like to come into school to hear some children read each week.

They could be mums, dads, grannies or granddads. We can be flexible with the day or the time. You can even let us know if you would prefer to hear younger or older readers.

If you are able to help, please contact the school office on (01604) 862880 and we will be thrilled to hear from you!

Being Courageous

The theme of our assemblies this week has been about 'courage'. We thought about if there was a difference between being courageous and being brave. We agreed that they were close synonyms.

The children thought how being brave was facing a fear, for example, doing a bungy jump; whereas being courageous is standing up for what is right and good, often in the face of adversity. We also looked into how being courageous links to our school value of honesty; being honest with yourself about what is right and wrong in the world and making a good decision to take action. The ideas our children had for this were impressive.

Just a reminder that messages sent to teachers on Class Dojo will be responded to within 24 hours. It is unlikely that teachers can respond during the school day
